Marie-Hélène Marganne, Comment échapper à la "peste antonine"? Mise en contexte du texte grec gravé sur une amulette en plomb découverte à Londres (Museum of London, inv. 941, c. 165-180).

SEP 18 (2021) pp. 103-115.

New edition, with French translation and commentary, of the Greek text inscribed on a lead amulet found in Vintry (Museum of London, Inv. 941, c. 165-180 AD). The charm was intended to protect the wearer, Demetrios, from dying in a loimos that could be identified with the Antonine plague.
